Homecoming 2016

By Victoria Sexton

Homecoming at MCS is defined as craziness and organized chaos. Mobile Christian's Homecoming week started on September 19th and ended on Friday September 23rd.

Students dressed up in accordance with several themes selected by the Student Government Association (SGA). The days ranged from Holiday Day, Rock-N-Roll Day, Disney Day, Class Colors Day, and the traditional Blue and Gold Day. During those crazy days, the SGA chose the best costume from students who showed the wackiest and most creativity for that particular day. Creativity ran strong in students leading up to Blue and Gold Day, in which most students wore the 2016 homecoming t-shirt designed by juniors Alysia Lee and Scott Bell.

All week long middle and high school students worked hard to decorate their grades' wall in the gym. The walls were very artistic and creative. On Friday the walls were judged before chapel and the winners were announced during the pep rally at the end of school. The high school first place winner was the senior class who created a (see p.3-"Homecoming")

Mission: Defined and Realized

Mobile Christian School is accredited by AdvancED, which accredits major K-12 schools and colleges such as Alabama, Auburn, and University of South Alabama. We are also the only school in Mobile to be accredited by the National Christian School Association. Every five years we go through a re-accreditation process in which we take a close look at our school, our strengths and weaknesses, and make a plan for the next five years.

As part of this process, our Beliefs and Missions Committee (made up of teachers, board members, parents, and students) has taken a close look at our mission statement, philosophy and objectives. While at some places, a (continued p. 2-"Mission") mission statement may be something that is hung on a wall and forgotten, but at Mobile Christian, it is the heart of everything that we do. Our mission is discussed in every faculty meeting and coaches training, and is the filter by which we make decisions every school day.

During this process, the Beliefs and Missions Committee and the Board of Trustees have modified our mission statement to better define who we are and what we intend to do. The new mission statement reads - The mission of Mobile Christian School is to provide a college preparatory education in a Christ centered community which equips our students with the desire and ability to serve God, family, and fellow man.

This statement describes our emphasis on the college preparatory education that Mobile Christian provides. We are proud of the fact that since our last accreditation visit, over 50% of our graduates have received college scholarships. Last year, 76% of our graduates received scholarships totaling around 4.5 million dollars and an average of over $128,000 each! Recently an article came out featuring one of our graduates who is graduating from USA in just over two years! In this article, she credits some of her quick success to the college preparatory curriculum, the dual enrollment classes she took here, the caring environment, and the scholarship that she received to make it all possible.

However, we not only want our students prepared for college, but we also want them prepared for LIFE. When we make this statement at MCS, we always capitalize LIFE because we know that life doesn't stop here on this earth, we try to prepare our students for eternal life as well. That is why we emphasize the Christ centered community that equips our students with the desire and ability to serve God, family, and fellow man. We know that our students will need God on their side to get through the tough challenges that life will bring after high school. We also want our students to make a positive difference in the world around them.

Let's continue to embrace our mission to make sure that our children are Prepared for College and Prepared for LIFE.

Kung-Fu Panda theme. In middle school seventh grade took first place.

Instead of the usual Almost Anything Goes, the SGA mixed things up a little and organized a student-faculty basketball game. The games were filled with enthusiasm as each grade cheered on its team. In the end the winner was the faculty team consisting of Coach Joey Adams, Coach Steven Thomas, Coach Justin Barnes, Coach Eric Gray, Coach Britney Mitchell, Coach Clint Mitchell, and Coach Mary Strickland who made the game winning shot.

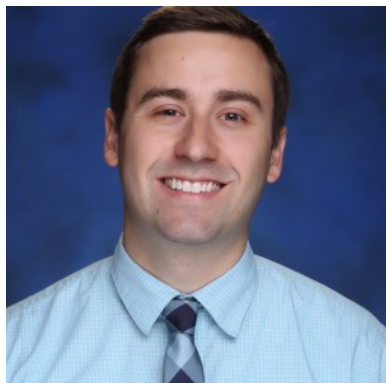

Many awards were given throughout the homecoming week including the Harrison Leff Heart of a Leopard Award, which was presented by Harrison Leff himself to senior Jordyn Wasden. The Mobile Christian Alumni Award went this year to Mrs. Ashley(Richardson) Walker, class of 2002, (see picture lower right)who has constantly gone above and beyond to help others. She also serves on the Board of Trustees as the vice president.

Friday, students gathered in anxious anticipation for the presentation of the 2016 Homecoming Court which was organized by Ms. Amy Huddle. The Homecoming Court was accompanied by ninth grader Zoe Stokes, our Oakleigh Belle. The maids representing the senior class of 2016 were Julia Grace Redd, Haley Sargent, and Jordyn Wasden. The Homecoming Queen of 2015, Belle Moorer, came back to her Alma Mater to crown the 2016 homecoming queen at the football game that night. Friday night the Leopards played Marengo High School. The Homecoming Court was presented during halftime and Jordyn Wasden was crowned Homecoming Queen by our former queen Belle Moorer. The game was full of excitement as Mobile Christian roared past Marengo High School winning the game 34-6 giving us a 4-1 record.

Recycling Wrecked Resolutions

This is the week it normally happens. This is the busiest week of the year for resolution wrecking yards. This is the week resolution wreckers hook up to the well intentioned resolutions we made back at the beginning of the New Year and haul them away because we have broken them. Like a gallon of milk will eventually spoil, the third week of January is about the time limit for well intentioned resolutions before they spoil. Suddenly the resolutions of working out more in the gym and eating less leave a sour taste with us. A survey has shown that gyms typically see a 40% increase right after January 1, but then starting in the third week of January, there is a steady decline for the rest of the year. 67% of the members who paid to join a gym never go to it! One poll predicted that 44% would make resolutions for 2017, but only 8% would keep those resolutions. The cold truth is, it is hard to make new habits stick!

Knowing how hard it may be to change our old habits, listed below are five new habits for our marriages we could develop to replace our wrecked resolutions. With these habits, 2017 will be the best year of marriage yet. These are from the Fierce Marriage website.

MORE BIBLE STUDY TOGETHER - Sanctify them in the truth; Your word is truth. John 17:17

Bible study is first for a reason. Nothing will transform us like immersing ourselves in God's Word. The more we read, the greater our appetite and the more we are filled with truth. We cannot rely solely on sermons and Bible class lessons to learn what is in the Bible. We must make time to study the Bible for ourselves. Our marriage will change for the better as we are transformed by the renewing of our mind in God's truth.

MORE PRAYER - Be anxious for nothing, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which surpasses all comprehension, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus. Philippians 4:6, 7

Pray. Pray alone, pray with your spouse, be pro-active in prayer. Set aside time to pray in a focused way, and keep yourself in an attitude of prayer throughout the day. Keep a prayer journal recording what you have prayed for and the result. The Bible is God's love letter to us. Prayer is our love letter to Him. Bible study and prayer result in an increase of our love for God. This results in more peace.

MORE ENCOURAGEMENT - Let no unwholesome word proceed from your mouth, but only such a word as is good for edification... Ephesians 4:29a

Make it a goal this year to intentionally encourage each other. Set reminders to help you remember, then watch the habit of encouragement take over. Send an encouraging text message on a daily basis. Send a letter in the mail... to your own house, addressed to your spouse. Give each other gifts just because.

4. MORE QUALITY TIME TOGETHER - Make this a priority by setting aside time to be together now, when the year is young. Mark off one weekend per month when you do something new together (it doesn't have to be expensive; be creative). Plan one date night per week if possible. Coffee, ice cream, frozen yogurt, whatever. Just get in each others' space and be emotionally intimate.

MORE CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP - Who are your friends? Are you and your friends serving at church? Do you and your friends regularly attend church together? You need friends who are alongside of you and helping you grow. Be intentional about your friendships, by nurturing a good blend of "input" friendships (those who help you grow and encourage you) and "output" friendships (those who you are ministering to and pouring into for their benefit).

This week lets set time aside to discuss with our spouse how these habits can become a part of our daily way of life in 2015. It is our prayer that each marriage in our Mobile Christian family will have Christ at the center. Building these habits into our life will help that to happen. We pray that in each marriage, the husband and wife will grow closer to Jesus and closer to each other this year.
